KIDS FIRST—Understand their differences. Focus on their needs. Educate them.

Impact of Executive Function Deficits & AD/HD

February 2 2012

7:00 p.m.

Birmingham Covington School (BCS)
1525 Covington Road • Bloomfield Hills, MI 48301

Harriet Green, retired Birmingham teacher, author, tutor, and coach will be presenting strategies that take the sting out of work time with AD/HD students. Ms. Green presents inspiring methods that will enable, engage, encourage, enrich, and empower the sometimes reluctant learner. She will discuss activities that address the symptoms of Executive Function and AD/HD including working memory, organization, frustration, focus, and planning ahead. The strategies and activities are creative, and harness AD/HD traits to make work time productive and tearless. The suggestions are a result of Ms. Green's experiences teaching, tutoring, and working with students in a mental health clinic.

Who is a Different Learner?

Different Learner is an inclusive term. Some different learners have identified disabilities such as autism, AD/HD or dyslexia and others simply have unique learning styles that present challenges in the classroom. Topics addressed by Friends may be specific to students with special needs or may be relevant to all students.

Everyone is Welcome!

Friends of Different Learners is an independent organization of parents, staff, and community members dedicated to maximizing the potential of Birmingham Public School students with different abilities.

BPS staff members attending will receive Professional Development credit and be eligible to win an exciting raffle prize!

Harriet Green's most recent book, AD/HD HOMEWORK CHALLENGES TRANSFORMED! is now available on Amazon at a pre-release sale price.
